Cosmetic products sustainably packaged!

As a manufacturing and trading company, we are aware of our ecological responsibility. We think in terms of sustainability and offer a range of carefully selected recyclable packaging solutions. In the area of production in particular, we adopt processes that are designed to conserve resources and protect the environment, and we optimize our use of energy and raw materials.

Recyclable composite film packaging.

Our sustainable composite film for manufacturing various types of sachets consists of pure polypropylene with a barrier and can be recycled after use. We manufacture the practical individual packaging in sample size or for single use in various shapes. The recyclable composite film makes the ideal sustainable packaging solution for hair, skin and body care products.

Premium-quality finishing

The recyclable composite film can be printed in up to 10 colors in the usual Permapack high quality. We use flexographic or digital printing processes depending on run length and customer requirements. Various finishing options such as matte or gloss lacquer, cold- and hot-foil stamping and soft-touch effect can be used to make your packaging unique.

Composite film variants:

- Thickness: 112 μ
- Colors: silver and transparent
